Workshop Facilitator

Evon Black

Storyteller, Evon Black is nationally acclaimed performer, workshop leader, keynote and motivational speaker. She combines her belief in the power of story with an inborn talent for teaching and performing. Her infectious enthusiasm and dynamic energy revitalize audiences and empower participants in her workshops. Holding a B.S. in psychology and a Masters in Educational Technology, Evon has been performer since 1986. She uses folktales from around the nation in a non-didactic way to teach values, elevate understanding and acceptance of other cultures. Professional associations find Evon to be a lively and inspiring speaker. At Gallaudet University as a college student, Evon was the first Black deaf student to hold a high position as Student Body Government Vice President. Evon survived through all obstacles and struggles in order to open the doors for the black students on campus. Evon made a pathway for student of colors in different organizations. Evon has worked primarily in the Deaf student development area for approximately 22 years ranging from Deaf residential schools to Gallaudet University. Prior to Sprint as Alabama Relay Account Manager, she was the Senior Admissions Counselor and handled 21 states for National Technical Institute for the Deaf. Evon is now a Statewide Coordinator of Technology Services for Deaf, Hard of Hearing and Deaf Blind Services with Alabama Department of Rehabilitation Services. She currently resides in Birmingham AL with a precious 16 year old son known as “DJ”.

Workshop Facilitator & Key Note Speaker

Patricia "Trix" Bruce

Trix has been involved in the performing arts since 1980 when she won the role of Helen Keller in her freshman year of high-school. She participated in the summer program hosted by the National Theatre of the Deaf (NTD) and performed at the National Technical Institute for the Deaf (NTID). As a deaf poet and actress, her performances draw heavily on her life experiences. Trix's one-woman show has been a long-standing success. Audiences are captivated by Trix's sign artistry, sheer elegance and irresistible, smile-sparking humor. Trix's performances and presentations always showcase her skills as an outstanding communicator. Trix's main area of study has been in ASL Linguistics with a focus on ASL Performance. She is an approved sponsor for the Registry Interpreter for the Deaf (RID) Certificate Maintenance Program and has developed a popular website, www.trixbruce.com. Whether writing, creating, improvising or starring in her many productions, Trix's passion for the dramatic arts always shines through.
